VOL. 23. CHICAGO, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1869.—WITH SUPPLEMENT. NUMBER 95.

COAL MINE DISASTER.

Four Men Precipitated One Hundred and Eighty Feet Down a Shaft.

One Man Killed and the Others Horribly Mangled.

A fatal and exciting event at the coal shaft of Wm. Watts, on Friday evening last. At about 7 o'clock on that evening, as four persons were ascending the shaft in the bucket, the rope broke, and they were precipitated to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of 180 feet. The bucket was broken to pieces, and the men were terribly mangled. Two of them, Thomas Waters and Thomas Jones, were killed outright, and the other two, Wm. Watts and Thomas Waters, were badly injured, but it is thought they will recover. Waters is also badly mangled, but it is thought he will survive. Waters is an Englishman, and has been employed at the mine for about two years. He leaves a wife and two children in the old country. Jones was also employed at the mine, and was a native of Wales. He leaves a wife and family. Watts is an Englishman, and has been employed at the mine for about two years. He leaves a wife and two children. Waters was a native of Ireland, and has been employed at the mine for about two years. He leaves a wife and two children. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts as above stated.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

TO THE VOTERS OF COOK COUNTY.

At the earnest request of many friends I announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of Superior Court—a position to these friends and with the "Independent Ticket." I have no endorsement, as every one who had any business in Superior Court from 1856 to 1865—when I made records—knows that I am competent for the position. Let the record speak for itself. If elected I will discharge the duties of the office to the satisfaction of the people. I am not a candidate of any others, or party.—HENRY KRAMER.

PROGRESS OF OUR CITY CAMPAIGN.

Rather more than two weeks ago, a sealed-and-listed ticket was nominated at Library Hall, by the efforts of its candidates, and in defiance of the well-known and freely-expressed opposition of hundreds of Republicans in the ward would engage in no contest with an antagonist whose only weapon was the ballot-box. The response was that rebuke to the men who had put the ticket out not to assail their corruption, or to put forward candidates for whom the Republican party could, with self-respect, cast their votes. They simply said that such a course of action would save the party itself from overthrow. The ticket that nominated was left at the door of the Republican party, with the quiet request that the party would support it. The Republican party accordingly did not participate in the election. By fostering the offspring of vice it could only sell its own good name and encourage future issues from virtue. It, therefore, returned the interesting child-of-sin to the parent with a request that the party was not now in the foundling business. In short, the ticket met with just the response it deserved—silent but withering contempt.

After seeing all chance of the letting respectable citizens of all shades of opinion and shades of Republican opinion as could be promptly reached, it was found that no other invitation provoked among Republicans generally that the citizens of Chicago should and if properly called on would rise and vote for the single and purpose of reforming the city government. A large number of leading Republicans took the matter in hand, and on the night of the 24th inst. the Citizens' Committee was nominated. All this time, if a recent news had to primaries, the enemy corrupt party were busy forming a ticket for the support of the Citizens' ticket, and adopting resolutions to the effect that this is a local contest for reform, and to regard a party nomination that the city has been tainted by and heavily to support the Court House Democracy; and that the citizens of the Eighth Ward, irrespective of party ties, will sustain the Citizens' ticket. Some of these meetings were called by the Central Committee, but it was the unanimous and unlimited expression of the views of those who took part in them. It is in vain to pretend, after such an adoption and endorsement, that the Citizens' ticket does not command the unanimous support throughout the city, at least, of all who oppose the "Ring Democracy."

The Democrats, meanwhile, have been compelled in trying to rent their business into the Citizens' meetings, to annoy or divide them, and to get up munificent meetings on the corner of the Court House square, to which no citizen was invited. On Saturday, the 25th inst., on Sunday, the endorsements of the press spread the ticket in detail before the people for consideration and discussion. A general stir of enthusiasm and approval indicated that the organization were satisfactory. On Monday night, the citizens of the Thirteenth Ward met, en masse, adopted resolutions repudiating the means by which the voice of the Thirteenth Ward had been overridden at the primaries, denounced the Court House swindlers, and indorsed the Citizens' ticket. On the same night, the Fifteenth Ward held a rousing meeting, largely of Germans, at Hamlin Hall, denounced the Ring and its organ, and indorsed the Citizens' ticket. On Tuesday, the citizens of the Eighteenth Ward gathered en masse at No. 85 Chicago avenue, formed a Citizens' Club, and passed the following resolutions:

Resolved, That as a People's party we are neither Democrats nor Republicans, but are for the purpose of securing honest and economical government in the city of Chicago, and we hereby call upon all citizens, without regard to party, to join us in this effort to secure a Common Council that will be composed of men who will look after the interests of the people, and not of rings and cliques.

Resolved, That we favor the nomination of Hon. John C. Haigh for City Treasurer, and that we will use every honorable effort to secure his election.

Changes of Opinion Amongst the Dissenters.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, Sept. 14, 1869.

The extreme hot and dry summer fight of the Church of England and fasting for the purpose of fine weather, by directors of railway companies of the two sects. These remedies, and the Harbinger give us no record of the success of the last (except, indeed, that October will, doubtless as to them, be a month of wet).

The Rev. W. Bennett, Vicar of Frome, who came in a London parish, and drew the Bombings and the extraordinary of the Church, has published a pamphlet of his sermons, which, I suppose, will exhibit information of the Church, and, of course, the Times, and other pet items of the Ritualist system, and it is there proposed to have a "Church Congress" to which the Times says a powerful body of ecclesiastic friends at the back. Ritualism is still "the thing." It fashionable that the Church of England is different to it is different to it

Changes of Opinion Amongst the Dissenters.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, Saturday, Sept. 11, 1869.

The autumn has set in for certain ranks of the Church of England, and signalized by the usual gathering of the clergy at the Church Congress, which opens at the town next Chester-Manchester and Liverpool are to be vying for the honor of the first meeting—but Bristol will, probably, bell Hymnal. Will Gentile or not Gentile be there?

The Rev. W. Antrobus, Vicar of Preston, has come to the front with a new scheme for the benefit of the Church of England, especially for the London poor. The Bishop of Natal, Dr. Colenso, presented him at last with a valuable living in Gloucestershire, and Lord Penzance has given him a long list of "livings" recently be published—names on the subject of the Rival Processions to Westminster Abbey on the 10th of November, and Mr. Vincent, who has succeeded with The Times, and other pet items of the Ritualistic program, and it is said that the Premier has been lately into his views. He has a reported body or aristocrats friends at his back. Ritualism is still "the thing" in fashionable circles, in the "ladies of position" line. Even the Archbishop of Canterbury is not "safe" from it, and other branches of the Church. At the general meeting of the Church Association, on the 1st inst., Mr. Whalley, M.P., presiding, Mr. Lefroy, on the forthcoming Ecclesiastical Council, and his place is crowded with Church of England clergymen. The Catholics are in force, and the great struggle the council will do battle against Protestants; but competition is not expected. The Archbishop of York, in a speech on the 1st inst., declared it was useless to suppose that the countries will not be made up by conversions in England. Well, the Rev. W. Bennett is a leading man amongst the Ritualists, and he is able, fervent, and eloquent. My impression is that if the law courts decide against him, he will go to Rome and join the shelter of the Vatican.

The other Ritualist prosecutions relate more to ceremonial than to doctrine, and to outdoors acts of worship rather than to the Church.

The Rationalist, the Rev. C. Voysey, is a thorough Low-Churchman. He takes the ground which Theodore Parker in his advanced stage used to occupy, and this he holds without dispute. I must say it seems to me he has a long time to wait before he is prosecuted. Talking of prosecutions, I see Mr. Voysey has published a pamphlet called "The Clergy and the Press," in which he says: "The Church of England is the only institution which the character of the clergy is not a matter of public discussion." Well, it is mostly an absence of personality which is the rule of the press in this country, and Mr. Voysey's objection is a sort of extremely fine distinction. Mr. Voysey, however, is not to be silenced, though he is himself Orthodox, he is kindly in spirit, and he has a large following. He has just opened a new chapel, established by "The Free and the Pure," which was consecrated (or not with it the exception of the Bishop of Natal) by the Bishops of the Church of England. I have seen them here well nigh to shreds, Sunday after Sunday, just after breakfast, by the Rev. Mr. Voysey, which is inspiration. The Archbishop of York, who is Mr. Voysey's superior, is a sound and extremely able man, and he should, I think, be a Gladstone, and
